THE CONSIGNORS

WILLIAM MACBETH, Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Estate of FLORENCE B. RUTHRAUFF, New York City.

By Order of HENRY B. SINGER, Attorney, New York City

MRS. JOSEPH J. LITTLE, New York City.

Estate of DR. R. A. WITTHAUS, New York City.
Nos. 6, 110, 151, 220, 261.

The remainder of the Paintings are from other owners.
The pictures consisting of the Old Masters which are here catalogued as my property are part of a collection purchased by me in Holland in 1895.

The forming of the collection was the life work of a well-known resident of The Hague, M. Muijser.

In his old age he decided to part with his pictures, but could not be induced to separate them,—hence the inclusion of some of minor importance. A few of the pictures were sold soon after their arrival in New York, but the constantly increasing interest in American pictures, my long-time specialty, held my attention in that direction so steadily that I simply put the Old Masters aside, postponing any exhibition of them from year to year.

Having decided not to store them any longer, they have now been placed in the hands of The Anderson Galleries for sale, wholly without reserve of any kind.

The authenticity of many has been well established by competent authorities, among them Dr. Hofstede de Groot, whose written opinion will accompany several canvases. For several I have not retained the former owner's definite attributions, merely leaving the "attributed" name as a basis for local critics' investigation and decision.

(Signed) WILLIAM MACBETH.

78 THE MADONNA IN GLORY.
This picture was a design for a ceiling fresco.
Canvas. Height, 21 inches; width, 3½ inches.
The following original opinion signed by A. Chatain accompanies this picture:

"This sketch possesses evidence of being an original in design and conception, and in brush work, composition and style is forcibly in the manner of Giovanni Battista Tiepolo. However in tonality, color selection, color harmony, and types of figures, are missing characteristics compared with other authentic pictures by G. B. Tiepolo. On account of these missing points I do not guarantee this picture, but in my opinion there is sufficient evidence to acknowledge it as an original by G. B. Tiepolo."

95 BATTLE OF THE AMAZONS.

The battle is the classic one wherein King Theseus and Queen Thalestris commanding the Amazons meet on the bridge of Thermodon. Theseus, mounted on a plunging horse, closely attended by his followers, is about to cast his javelin at the Amazons, who are turning in flight at the other end of the bridge. Many have fallen from the bridge or are struggling in the water below.

Canvas.
Height, 24 inches; width, 55 inches.

This picture is believed to have been painted about 1619, and is the preliminary sketch for the painting now in the Munich Gallery. The latter has been changed both in perspective of the bridge and in many of the figure arrangements, as well as in the shape and size of the canvas. It was the opinion of the late Henry Mosler that this sketch was more spirited in action and more spontaneous in expression, and gave a much better idea of the force and movement of the battle than the completed picture.

170 SUNSET LANDSCAPE.
A lonesome summer twilight is depicted. Two large trees, painted in Blakelock's typical manner, are at the right, with two Indian wigwams beneath them, while at the extreme left, farther away, are two other trees. The sky is greenish-gold, verging to a rich brown toward the zenith.
Canvas. Signed. Height, 9 inches; width, 12 inches.

French, 1812-1889

171 MARINE.
The subject of the picture is a rolling, choppy sea, such as Dupré loved to paint. In the middle distance is a brownish boat and farther away other sails, helping to give distance to the horizon, and clouds which lie in banked formation above the horizon. The rich blue tones of the sea, relieved by the white spray, give beauty to the composition. Canvas. Signed.

Height, 21\(\frac{3}{4}\) inches; width 24 inches.

American, 1853-1902

172 MARCH WEATHER.
An atmospheric masterpiece by the “first American Impressionist.” The wetness and the sogginess of the fields, just at the breaking up of winter, with patches of snow still lingering, are inimitably presented; an abandoned field has here and there a stunted cedar. In the distance is a bit of Long Island Sound, while farther away are the foothills of the opposite shore. Over all is a great, cold March sky, of purplish blue with white clouds. The whole subject is presented in a bluish haze, typical of a March thaw. Canvas. Signed. Height, 30 inches; width, 40 inches.

A. H. WYANT, N.A.
American, 1836-1892

174 WATKINS GLEN, ADIRONDACKS.
This typical example of the artist's earlier manner, before his art passed from analysis to synthesis, was painted in 1861, when Wyant was 23 years old. Minutely painted, it reproduces faithfully the cool, clear shadows and the limpidity of a trout stream overhung with rocks and trees. The pearl-grey tones of the rocks are typical of Wyant. The burst of sunshine on the trout stream in the distance furnishes a centre for the composition.

RALPH A. BLAKELock
American, 1847-

175 INDIAN BURIAL.
This picture is a beautiful golden brown example of the artist's last and broadest manner. The landscape is seen in a warm summer twilight, and the deep golden and brown sky throws its rich glow over the mountainside, covered with vines and brambles, and helps to give a romantic and spiritual charm to the weird Indian ceremony depicted. In a tree at the right, standing apparently on the side of a declivity, is a rude Indian coffin; at the foot of the tree are three Indians, while at the left, silhouetted against the dying sky another Indian stands with arm upraised, while further to the left is still another.

258 BATTLE OF REPHIDIM.
The picture illustrates the following passage of Exodus XVII-8-13.

8. Then came Amalek, and fought with Israel in Rephidim.

9. And Moses said unto Joshua: choose us out men, and go out, fight with Amalek; tomorrow I will stand on the top of the hill, with the rod of God in mine hand.

10. So Joshua did as Moses had said to him, and fought with Amalek, and Moses, Amron and Hur went up to the top of the hill.

11. And it came to pass, when Moses held up his hands that Israel prevailed, and when he let down his hands Amalek prevailed.

12. But Moses' hands were heavy; and they took a stone, and put it under him, and he sat thereon, and Amron and Hur stayed up his hands, the one at the one side, and the other on the other side; and his hands were steady until the going down of the sun.

13. And Joshua discomfited Amalek and his people with the edge of the sword.

Canvas. Signed at the right, on the saddle of the horse; dated 1856. Height, 21 inches; width, 30 inches.

Letter from Theobald Chartran with reference to above picture:

"The Battle of Rephidim, by Nicolas Poussin is very curious as to its execution, and very rare on account of its small dimensions; the composition is very fine, it is full of action and of the belle epoque of this French master."

LONE INDIAN AND SETTING SUN

By Ralph A. Blakelock.
RALPH A. BLAKELOCK
American, 1847-

263 LONE INDIAN AND SETTING SUN.
The spiritual element predominates in this picture. Overhead is a wonderful gold, green, brown, and red spangled sky, with the sun, almost obscured, just sinking to the horizon. An Indian stands with his back to the spectator, facing the setting sun, and meditating on the wonderful spectacle of the sunset sky, in which he sees the work of the Great Spirit. A forest dimly appears in the distance, hemming in the plain, and in the foreground, at either side, are trees sketchily painted in Blakelock's typical manner.

ITALIAN PRIMITIVE

286 THE JUDGMENT OF PARIS. (Background by Battista, figures by Raphael or Dossi).
The scene in which the goddesses meet is a grove guarded by nymphs and river gods. Paris with a crook of a shepherd and a dog at his feet, delivers the apple to Venus, Juno threatens him with her finger, Minerva turns from him with disdain, and Mercury departs to spread the wondrous intelligence. Apollo in the sky has already started the chariot of the Sun, preceded by the twins of their steeds, and Jove appears with the goddesses in the clouds, supported on the outspread mantel of the bearded giant "Firmament."
Panel. Height, 25 inches; width, 18 inches.
Some years ago a photograph of this picture was submitted to Dr. Bode of Berlin who expressed the opinion that it was possibly the painting referred to by Crowe and Cavalcasselle and others, and which has been lost for several hundred years.
